

Energetix Launches Potent Probiotic for Today's Health Crisis

More Bacteria May Boost Immunity – Energetix Unveils Flora 12+, a Unique Multi-Strain Probiotic for Compromised Immune Systems

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Oct 24, 2009 - DAHLONEGA, GA -- Energetix Corporation, a BioEnergetic remedy company dedicated to producing the finest, most potent products available today announced that the Company has launched a new product called Flora 12+.

Flora12+ is a synergistic formulation of twelve probiotic bacterial strains developed to improve the intestinal terrain. A significant part of the immune system resides in the intestinal tract, which is responsible for producing “good” bacteria, vitamins, and enzymes to combat disease and infection. Each capsule is a power-packed supplement designed to rebalance the digestive terrain with potent immune bacteria for the gut. The addition of beneficial bacteria has been known to increase the body's ability to build and sustain its own “friendly”, natural immune bacteria.

The formula has been designed with Sacchromyces boulardii, a unique probiotic strain known to assist the body in overcoming complex microbial infections such as Candida, viral issues and parasitic infections.

Due to changes in environmental toxicity, rising stress levels and increased antibiotic use, Energetix believes that a practitioner's ability to address complex gut issues with probiotic use will be enhanced with this strategic formulation. Flora12+ will be marketed throughout the United States exclusively to practitioners including naturopaths, chiropractors, AK practitioners, EAV practitioners, acupuncturists and homeopaths, as well as MDs, nurse practitioners and practitioners of Chinese medicine.

The objective of Energetix is to provide cutting edge supplements that meet today's health challenges. For more information, contact Energetix at press@goenergetix.com or call 800.990.7085.
